

I offer those interested the possibility of having their own online television broadcast.

Additionally, but separated from the price of the work, I also offer consulting to the beneficiary or to its employees, for administering the television website. The necessities are discussed and evaluated separately, depending on the complexity of the work.

Still additionally and optionally, the website of such an online may also contain articles, banners, community, forum, online store, paid services, newsletter, video & audio sharing, web directory, ... all these in the same website.

Depending on the transmission mode used, (.flv, .wmv, .rm etc), it is possible that additional software to be needed - software that will have to be bought separately by the beneficiary.

Also, we'll have to discuss the hosting necessities of the online television website, in terms of bandwidth, disk space, and auxiliary hosting options.

A recent example of online television is HoroscopTV.ro .
